

Memory

My memory is failing, it has to be said
Thoughts that I need just leak from my head
In order to make sure there's nothing I've missed
I have to remember to make me a list

But a list works well and I urge you to try
Just note down the things you're intending to buy
It starts out with one thing or maybe just two
But by keeping it ready and always in view

As new things crop up you just add to the bottom
So then when you go shopping you're sure to have got 'em
It's as simple as that, just a pen and a pad
Can help with the fact that your memory's so bad

And I found it so easy, this keeping a list
To note all the things I'd have previously missed
I can't tell you the aggro that it's gonna stop
Once I remember that list when I shop